ABOUT ME

I am a Software Engineering student, always seeking opportunities to apply and expand my knowledge. I have experience with Java and intermediate English skills, along with various interpersonal skills such as clear communication, teamwork, and problem-solving. I strongly believe that continuous learning is essential, and I am always eager to improve both my technical and personal skills. I am currently looking for an internship opportunity in software development, where I can contribute and learn from experienced professionals. My goal is to become a well-rounded professional capable of tackling challenges and delivering innovative solutions.
